

SUMS UP THE VOTE CLAIMS OF MANAGERS

Stephenson Seems To Be The Real Leader In The Contest For Senator.

ALL CANDIDATES WORK VERY HARD

Vote Analyzed By Districts--Stephenson Managers
Claim Majority Of The Congressional Divisions Thus Far.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Aug. 25.—It would be hard to state just how much money has been expended upon the primary work by the four senatorial candidates thus far but the lavish preparations for primary day itself leads one to stop and consider whether the present law is as effective as the old convention caucus system.
Hutton, Cook and Stephenson have certainly tipped their "barrels" up on end. Their campaign headquarters are the scenes of the greatest activity and the closing days of the summer's work promise to bring results if labor counts for anything.
As usual, a round of the headquarters brings out the same old story that their particular candidate will win. Strange to say, however, it is also the same cry that if they do not win Stephenson will.
One hears Stephenson on all sides. His name is coupled with Hutton's, his name is coupled with McGovern's, and his name is coupled with Cook's. Each candidate fears the Marquette man and his chances for nomination more than they do any other of the men who are striving for the approval of the people for the office.
Stephenson's managers are most optimistic. They make claims of six of the eleven congressional districts. They are sure that their candidate will have clean majorities in each of them. The first, second, fourth, fifth and ninth and tenth are the ones they have marked down as their own.
The fourth and fifth are in Milwaukee and are fighting grounds but the first appears to be solid for the Marquette man. The second is La Follette district and if he has any influence and means to throw it to anyone it would not be Stephenson. The ninth is Stephenson's own district and will give him a handsome majority. The tenth is also practically certain to be in line when the time comes.
Cook's men claim the sixth and eighth. These may be conceded to him for if he gets any districts it will be those two. Cook also lays claim to the third district but this is doubtful in the extreme and the fight will

HARD WORK IS OVER FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Heavy Mailing of Campaign Literature Marks Close of the Primary Campaign.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Aug. 25.—The heavy work of the campaign is over and this week will be devoted to the primary election candidates to perfecting their local organizations and preparing for the work of primary day. William H. Hutton, who maintained a large force of stenographers and mailing clerks here, has laid off practically all his help at this kind, and the same is true of the headquarters in charge of Thomas P. Nelson, Justice Siebek's clerk, who worked in the interior of John Strange of Oaksholt, candidate for the nomination of lieutenant governor. From the great bundles of mail daily dumped into the post office here from these headquarters, it is said that the figures given out in Milwaukee as to the cost of the mailing campaign are incredible. This campaign has been even more expensive than the old kind, wherein it used to be charged that votes of legislators and delegates to conventions were bought outright by candidates.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Aug. 25.—A penton-day sentence was imposed this morning upon J. J. Burke, a well known Madison character of lengthy court record, consequent upon his plea of guilty to the charge of burglarizing the meat market of Jordan Brothers Sunday morning. This market has been robbed several times of late, quantities of choice meat being stolen, and the proprietors figured up a burglar alarm which would ring in their home if the door of the refrigerated room were opened. At 3 o'clock Sunday morning they were awakened by the alarm, hastened to the market and arrived in time to swing shut the door of the refrigerator containing "Sealton" Burke with a great bag filled with spring chickens and hams. Then the police were called and when the "hurry up" wagon arrived Burke was glad enough to be taken to a warm cell in the police station. He being caught in the act was willing to plead guilty and ask for the mercy of the court.

Was Being Investigated as to Its Deal of Last Saturday by Board of Governors.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Aug. 25.—The A. O. Brown company, one of the largest brokerage houses with city branches throughout the country, announced its suspension on the Stock Exchange this afternoon. D. W. Noel was named as assignee. It is presumed the assets and liability are very large. A representative of the firm stated its affairs were badly tangled and it was necessary to suspend in order to straighten them out. The transactions of this firm in the remarkable market of last Saturday have been under investigation by the authorities of the exchange.
The volume of trading on the Stock Exchange increased rapidly when the suspension of Brown was announced, but the prices vacillated and there was no general movement in other directions. At two o'clock the market was quiet.
It is now believed the liabilities will amount to several million dollars. A member of the firm said the failure was not serious and the firm hoped to pay a hundred cents on the dollar and resume operations before long.

HERMAN SCHUMAKER ACCIDENTALLY HURT

Handle of Car Jack Flew up and Hit Him Over the Left Eye— Injury Not Serious.

This morning about half past eight o'clock, Herman Schumaker, car repairer at the Northwestern roundhouse was struck by the lever of a jack and a nail about an inch long, cut above his left eye.

His helpers and the force at the roundhouse immediately came to his help, washing the wound and bandaging it up, until he arrived at the office of the company's doctor. It had become necessary to remove the trucks from under a loaded car and the car had been set on the repair track for Mr. Schumaker and his men to attend to. The car had been raised up from the trucks and a new set had been put in and the men were lowering the car back on the trucks when the lever jack, which they had been using refused to work. Mr. Schumaker came over to see what was the trouble and was standing looking it over when the lever handle suddenly flew up. The men lay the fault of the accident to the jack, which was worn and which had acted in the same manner before although the men who happened to be working it, luckily escaped from being struck. He was taken down on a handcar to the doctor's office, where several stitches had to be taken. He will probably be able to resume work tomorrow however.

BELOIT MAN HAS A UNIQUE SOUVENIR

Has Papers Recalling Great Homecoming of Cyrus W. Field Years Ago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 25.—R. J. Dowd of this city is in receipt of papers from Massachusetts that recall the homecoming celebration in honor of Cyrus W. Field just after he had succeeded in laying the first Atlantic cable fifty years ago this month. Field lived in Stockbridge and Mr. Dowd resided at East Lee, six miles distant. He went to the Stockbridge celebration and heard Field try to make a speech, but though he says the inventor was not much of an orator, he heard two messages of congratulation from London and Paris read by Field, who received them during his speech. Mr. Dowd was in the same business then as now, making machine knives.

A Taft club undoubtedly will be formed in Beloit college this year, following out the national committee's plan to get all the first votes possible lined up for Taft.

LOW RAILROAD RATE TO THE ROAD MEET

For State Good Roads Convention— Meeting to be Held in a Large Hall Down Town.

The railroads have recently decided to give a round trip rate of a fare and a half to the State Fair. All persons attending the Good Roads Convention at Milwaukee September 8th can take advantage of these rates.

This year the convention will be held in a large hall down town where the proceedings will not be interrupted by the attractions of the fair. Turner Hall, which is in Fourth street, three and a half blocks north of Grand Avenue, has been secured by the committee. It is a well known place and can be easily found by those who are strangers in the city.

Many prominent speakers have promised to be present. Hon. Thomas Emmerton, president of the State Society of Road Builders will give a talk. Hon. Horatio S. Earle, the Michigan State Highway Commissioner will tell how they are building hundreds of miles of good roads in his state. Mr. Colgrove of Hastings, Michigan, has promised to come to tell how the Hastings people have succeeded in building many miles of good roads under the Michigan state aid law. Any one who is at all interested in good roads will listen to Mr. Colgrove with much pleasure and profit. Senator Armstrong of New York, one of the authors of the New York State Aid law has promised to be present and tell of the experience of his state.

If you are interested in getting better roads for your community it will pay for you to attend this convention. The highway division of the State Geological Survey is preparing an historical exhibit of the State Fair which those who attend the fair should not fail to see. There are various forms of concrete culverts built in such a way as to show all the details of how to go about it. After carefully looking over these culverts any road overseer should be able to build a permanent culvert in the best possible manner. The exhibit also contains some split log bridges and other things of interest to practical road builders.

Y. M. C. A. WILL HELP ENTERTAIN SAILORS

Are Arranging for Men of Navy to See Points of Interest in Japan.

When the United States fleet arrives in Japan the sailors will be enabled to see a number of the sights of the Flowery Kingdom, which are closed to the general public, through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. in this country. Mr. C. V. Hibbard, who has been spending the past few months here, says that the organization is making extensive preparations to Japan to welcome the sailors and provide for their entertainment while there.

A report comes from New York that various missionary societies and the Y. M. C. A. are working to have the Gaijin girls barred from the public entertainments to be given the sailors. The Gaijin girls, once almost an institution of Japan, are gradually being eliminated from the amusement field and if this movement is successful it may set a precedent. "Gaijin" in Japanese means "foreign" and "Gaijin" is the word for woman and "Gaijin" therefore means a skillful woman. In this case skillful in dancing. Gaijin girls much resemble our chorine girls and occupy about the same social position. Of late years through the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. which seeks to induce the public to say that rather than to be able to say that there are a certain number of Christians through their efforts, have been successful in causing the popularity of gaijin girls as public entertainers to decline.

LITTLE JOURNEYS TO THE SUMMER HOMES OF PROMINENT MEN.

MARK TWAIN'S COUNTRY HOME.

Mark Twain is now living in his new Italian villa near Branchville, Conn. He moved in with his household on June 17, before it was entirely completed.

The exterior finish is stucco, and although simple in decoration, is very artistic and pleasing to the eye. On the west end is a very cool and attractive loggia, paved with large red tiles. Set in the walls between the arches are little ovals containing pretty Italian landscapes, which give a delightful touch of color to the scheme.

At the extreme eastern end of the ground floor, connected with the loggia by a long hall is the billiard room. A large light room in which the humorist will no doubt spend a great deal of his time.

A series of artistically arranged terraces slope away from the north end to a pretty pergola being constructed about 100 yards from the door. The grounds are wild, and will be left in their natural state.

The beautiful rolling country which is spread out before the eye for miles on all sides is a peaceful surface of green fields, stone walls and groves with here and there a quiet farm house.

PLAN TO BREAK UP GREAT WOOL TRUST

National Wool Growers' Association Will Discuss This Topic at Convention.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 25.—Plans to break up the "Wool trust" will form the principal topic of discussion at the annual convention of the National Wool Growers' association, which convened here today for a three days' session. Many leading wool growers are in attendance from Wyoming, Colorado, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Arizona, Montana, Idaho and other states and territories.

The growers believe that the problem of giving them the control of the industry and eliminating the middleman and speculator can be solved by the establishment of storage warehouses in the chief wool growing centers. This plan has been placed in operation on a small scale in St. Paul and Omaha and the results have been highly satisfactory. It is now proposed to inaugurate the scheme on a large scale, with the establishment of large storage plants in Chicago, Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, Minneapolis and other market centers. A committee of the association has been investigating the subject for several months past and will report the results of its labors to the present convention.

FAIRBANKS.

The Busy Joker.

In Washington, D. C., an edict has gone forth that neither firemen nor policemen shall wear false teeth. That is hard news. A toothless policeman is not much to be feared, but think of a fireman trying to call out orders when his store teeth have been taken away from him. Some reforms go too far.

JEROME WARMLY APPROVED.

Charges Against District Attorney Declared to Be Unfounded.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Richard L. Hand of Elizabethtown, who was appointed by Gov. Hughes to take testimony and report his findings upon the charges filed against District Attorney William Travers Jerome of New York county by a minority stockholders' committee of the Metropolitan Street Railway company, in a report submitted to the governor Monday, finds that not one of the series of charges is proved, but that all are disproved upon the evidence. He recommends the dismissal of the charges. "My conviction upon the whole case," says Mr. Hand in his report, "is that the respondent has been shown to have discharged the onerous duties of his office with zeal and ability, having the public good as his motive and that no incapacity, indifference or neglect of duty has been shown in any case."

THE DIRT EXCAVATED BY UNCLE SAM IN ONE MONTH AT PANAMA, IF LOADED ON WAGONS, AND THESE WAGONS ARRANGED IN A STRAIGHT LINE, WOULD FORM A CONTINUOUS LINE FROM CHICAGO TO NEW YORK AND BACK, AND STILL HAVE ENOUGH LEFT TO REACH FROM CHICAGO TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

In 17 years' work the French excavated 22,000,000 cubic yards, while Uncle Sam, in the last 12 months, has excavated 11,000,000 cubic yards. In other words, Uncle Sam will accomplish as much in two years as the French did in 17.

Figures mean little in connection with Uncle Sam's gigantic job at Panama, when we learn that during the last 12 months Uncle Sam's average monthly excavation has been 922,621 cubic yards. For the sake of comparison, let us imagine that were again in the times of wagon transportation, and that these same 922,621 cubic yards of earth, which were excavated during the month of July, have been loaded on the old fashioned wagons, an average of two cubic yards to each wagon, would require 466,312 wagons. If we can imagine this all loaded at one time and arranged in a straight line, so that the noses of the horses touch the back of the wagon in front of them, allowing 20 feet to a wagon and horse, we would have a continuous line of wagons 1,766 miles long, which is a little more than the distance from Chicago to New York and back, and enough wagons would then be left to reach to Washington, D. C.

In this way we get some idea of the magnitude of the work which Uncle Sam is actually accomplishing today and every day of the year at Panama. These figures are scarcely believable and yet they are based on government reports, and are, beyond the peradventure of a doubt.

clearly demonstrated than by comparison of the modern American methods and success with that of the French regime.

The French took two weeks at this canal before eventually giving it up. The old French company started work in 1881 and worked continuously during the following eight years, during which time 12,000,000 cubic yards of dirt were excavated. The Americans, during the last 12 months, have excavated 11,000,000 cubic yards, which comes pretty close to the total amount excavated by the French during the eight years of the old company's work. The French made the second attempt in 1895, and again worked continuously until 1904, a period of nine years, during which time only 10,000,000 cubic yards of earth were excavated, not as much as Uncle Sam excavates in one year.

The question naturally arises as to what proportion of the work which Uncle Sam has in hand has already been accomplished, and this is a difficult proposition to arrive at, for in ready the question of excavation is taking second place to the new paramount issues of locks and water supplies. Finishing the excavation only, we find that Uncle Sam has already accomplished about one-third of his work. When we undertake the excavation there remained 55,098,248 cubic yards of earth to be taken out. Of this amount he has already taken out 18,445,426 cubic yards, which is about one-third of the work. This does not necessarily mean that one-third of the total work has been accomplished, for when we figure on excavation alone we do not take in consideration the great amount of labor and time required in the construction of locks and other problems which concern him.

We must not blame the French entirely for their lack of enterprise, for it is certain that the machinery invented in the last decade has made possible the excavation at so rapid a pace, and again, the French companies were in the hands of men who were looking for personal gain rather than public good.

There is no greater credit to the American people today than the fact that such a gigantic undertaking is being handled so successfully by individuals and government employ. Not a question has been raised as to graft, for the American people have every confidence in the men at the helm who are handling the funds necessary for this undertaking.

The most casual observer cannot fail to recognize two highly important factors in Uncle Sam's success. First, the systematic, carefully trained campaign which included not only the handling of materials at a minimum cost, but the care of his men, the sanitation of the isthmus, and the care of men's social life. Everywhere systematic thought is evident. The second great factor is his employment of powerful machines, which can accomplish the work of thousands of men in less time and with much less cost. On the isthmus will be found every type of excavating machines which have proven satisfactory in aiding other like enterprises. Competent men are at the head of the work, men who have obtained their training under the tutelage of the great railroads, and who have obtained experience in such gigantic undertakings as the Chicago drainage canal.

The prediction that the canal will be completed by January 1, 1915, will be easily accomplished and no doubt boats will make their headway from the Atlantic to the Pacific through the canal a considerable time in advance of this. In going through the canal a boat has to be lifted 200 feet above sea level and again lowered

ARTIFICIAL FATTENING OF OYSTERS AT THE FAMOUS LYNNHAVEN BAY GOVERNMENT STATION.

Alarm by the heavy broods made of protecting and cultivating oysters of Mexico. At the present rate of consumption it will be only a few years until all the better grades of oysters are consumed, unless some means are devised to increase production. Last year thousands of tons of the bivalves were sold, and there is an ever increasing demand.
